

SCHOOL CENSUS 'NATIONALITY' ONLY FOR KIDS

McCormick Says Question Is Always Standard On School Forms

BAD WEATHER POSTPONES ROLL TAKING TILL TUESDAY

The controversial nationality question on Pottstown's school census questionnaire will be applied only to children.

Superintendent Dr. George A. McCormick last night explained, "It's always asked in the case of children. Our form is similar to the one used in Butler (Butler county) and many other school districts."

"Statistics on school children in this State for some reason include nationality. In nearly every case that question is answered, 'American.'"

The questionnaire includes the nationality question for children under 18 years of age.

THE CENSUS, aimed at getting all Pottstown residents on the borough tax rolls, has been postponed until Tuesday because of the weather. It was scheduled originally for today.

Dr. McCormick explained, "We had an advance weather report from the Reading weather bureau and because of this we decided to call off the census this week."

If the inclement weather continues or threatens to last through Tuesday an announcement on a second possible schedule change will be made Monday.

Officials expect the census, which will be taken by 170 teachers and principals, to last about six hours if all citizens co-operate.

TEACHERS HAVE been divided into eight teams. Visits will start at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Elaborating on the nationality question, Dr. McCormick said, "I don't see any sense in it, but that's the way it always has been done. We don't use the data on nationality and I believe the State does."

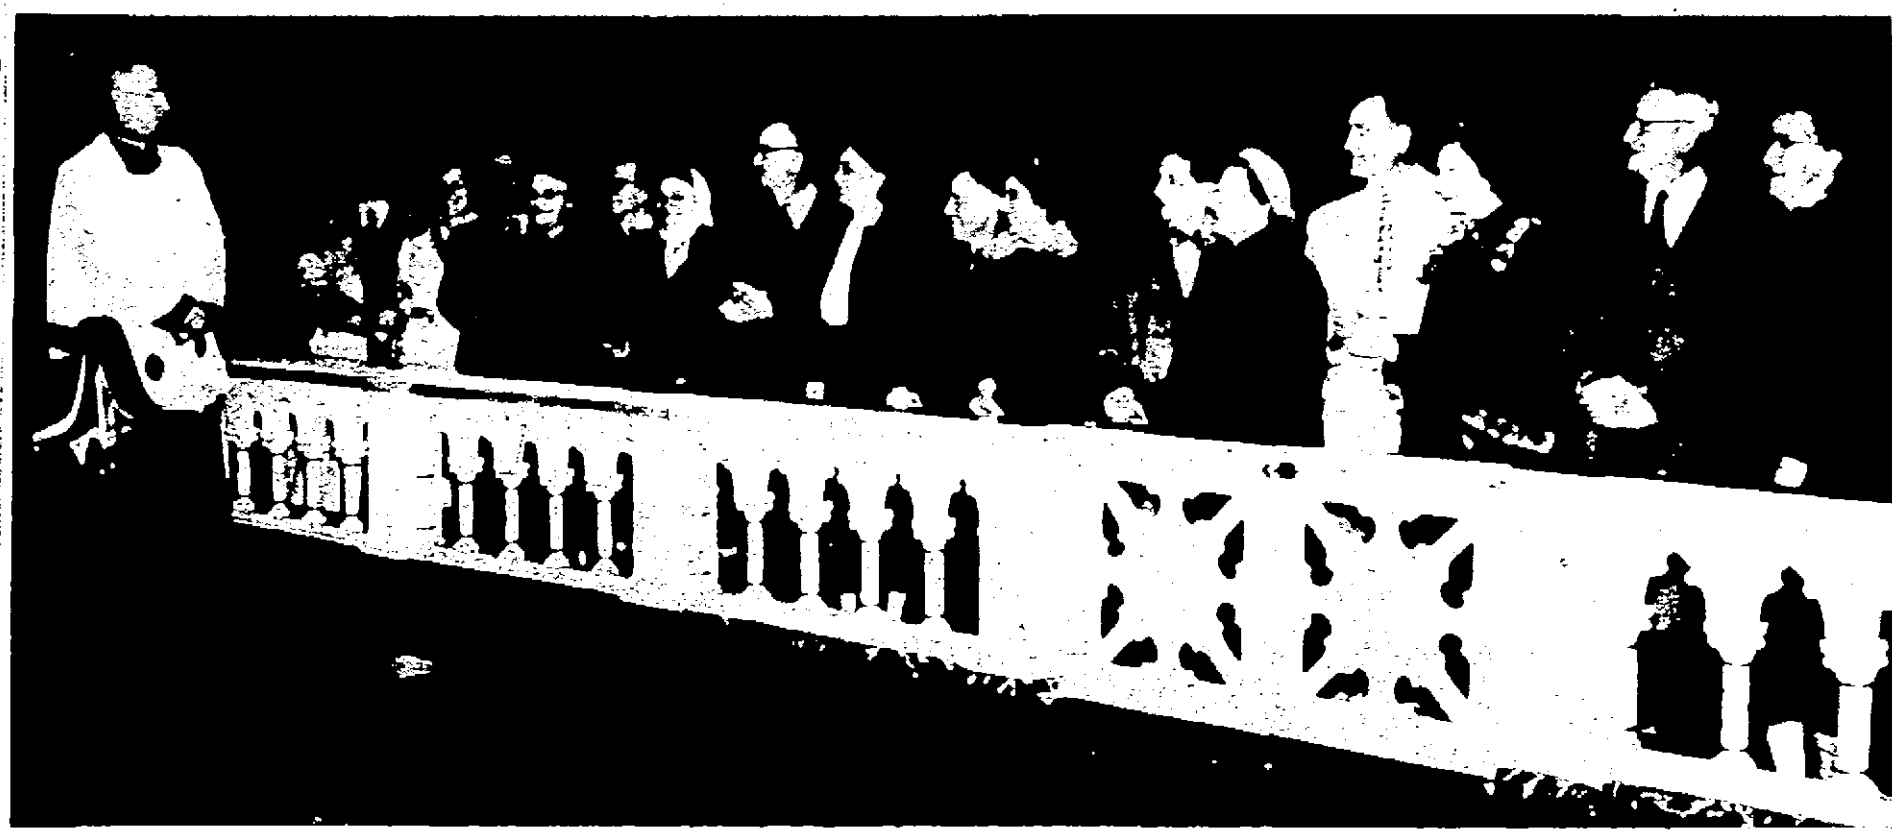

"It's just one of those questions which always has been asked when and where school censuses have been taken. Ever since I can remember they have been listing the nationality of school children."

A number of Pottstown residents have said they can see no relation between a person's nationality and the taxes he or she must pay.

Couples Renew Marriage Vows in Ceremony

The Rev. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius church, congratulates eight of the more than 50 couples who reaffirmed their marriage vows in a unique ceremony last night in the church. The eight couples pictured above have all been married 25 years or more. They are, from left to right, Mr. and Mrs. John Urban, 11 East Sixth street; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Rothenberger, 1016 High street; and Mr. and Mrs. John Shultz, 257 Manalawny street; Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Dunn, 28 King street; Mr. and Mrs. Fortunato Tufani, 519 West Race street, Stowe; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Berthold, 71 West Fourth street; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Szymanski, 701 Beech street, and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence J. Pauly, 66 Chestnut street. Two other Pottstown couples took part in the elaborate ceremonies at the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul last night in Philadelphia.

(Mercury Staff Writer)

More than 50 Pottstown couples, many of them past the half-century mark, held hands in St. Aloysius church last night and solemnly went through a ceremony that carried them back over some of the most important years of their lives.

It was the first service of its kind ever held in the borough.

The more than 100 men and women, who had ridden the seas of matrimony successfully, took an hour off from workaday life to look back at the shores from which they'd set out, and then consider the journey that still lay ahead. Hands clasped, they told one another, once again, that they accepted each other from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, until death did them part.

LED BY The Rev. William M. Begley, rector of the church, the couples re-affirmed their marriage vows.

The ceremony was part of a movement that has swept the nation's Catholic churches during the Conference is being held in Philadelphia and the whole archdiocese of Philadelphia is participating in the program.

Two couples from Pottstown, both about to celebrate their silver anniversaries, made the trip to Philadelphia where an elaborate ceremony was conducted last night in the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul.

Repeating their marriage vows there as special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Stranick, 432 King street, who will celebrate their 25th anniversary next September, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Pollick, 254 Walnut street, married 25 years next month.

The Stranicks have nine sons and daughters, ranging in age from 23 to six.

THE POLLOCKS have three children, aged 23, 21 and 19. Included in the 50 couples who took part in the ceremony at St. Aloysius church last night were eight who have been married 25 years or more.

They were Mr. and Mrs. John Urban, 11 East Sixth street; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Rothenberger, 1016 High street; Mr. and Mrs. John Shultz, 257 Manalawny street; Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Dunn, 28 King street; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tufani, 519 West Race street, Stowe.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Berthold, 71 West Fourth street; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Szymanski, 701 Beech street, and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence J. Pauly, 66 Chestnut street.

Women Production Line Workers Still Get Wolf Whistles

By MERCURY STAFF WRITER FRED C. SELBY

The song, "Rosie the Riveter," fell off the hit parade long ago, but the women plant workers who helped inspire the song are still on the job in Pottstown.

A typical worker, Mrs. Walter Rohrbach, who is employed in Firestone Tire and Rubber company's huge plant, said yesterday that she prefers production work in the plant to office work and that women workers still are greeted with the same loud whistles they were when they first went into plants.

Mrs. Rohrbach is one of a group of women workers who went to work in the huge new plant built for Jacobs Aircraft Engine company during World War II and who stayed on the job when this plant was taken over by Firestone.

She's part of a "team" of women workers who splice strips of material that are cut on the bias by an automatic machine for use in tire reinforcing.

With her on the team are Mrs. Nellie H. Rightmire, Mrs. John Knowl and Mrs. Myrtle Hoffman.

PLANT OFFICIALS said only a handful of production workers in the plant are women, but that those there have been efficient workers.

In addition to splicing, women work on beading tire with wire, help build industrial tires and pack tubes.

Mrs. Rohrbach said, sensibly, that the big reason she likes production work is, "I think it pays a higher wage scale."

Mrs. Rohrbach said she also (Continued on Page Twenty-three)

Typical of the women production workers who have remained on the job after World War II ended is Mrs. Walter Rohrbach, shown at work splicing strips of material used in tires made at Firestone Tire and Rubber company's plant. The material can be spliced by hand pressure because it has raw gum on it. Mrs. Rohrbach went into the plant when it made airplane engines. She worked for Firestone there since 1946.

Chamber Appoints Gavin Director

Morris R. Gavin, plant manager for Spicer Manufacturing division, was named to Pottstown Chamber of Commerce's board of directors yesterday.

He was appointed to succeed William J. Boden, superintendent of the Concrete Products Company of America plant (and Montgomery county recorder of deeds), who resigned at the February meeting. Gavin's term is one year.

James S. Wilke was named national councillor and delegate to the annual meeting of the Board Sets Draft Date

The next group of inductees from the Pottstown area will leave the Pottstown industrial sites, from Longaker of local Draft Board 110 said yesterday.

This month's group will include 20 men, mostly from the 19-year-old age group.

The quota for April also has been set at 20 men by State Selective Service headquarters.

Eleven Are Entered In Firestone Race For Scholarships

Eleven sons and daughters of Pottstown Firestone Tire and Rubber company employees entered the first firm-wide college scholarship contest, it was announced yesterday.

Fifteen winners from Firestone plants throughout the nation will receive full, four-year college scholarships.

E. T. Handley, Pottstown plant manager, last night explained, "I hope we will rate at least two scholarships at this plant."

"We didn't have a great number of entries because our plant is new and most of our employees don't have youngsters of college age."

THE DEADLINE for applications in the contest is April 1 by (Continued on Page Twenty-three)

Local Businessman Drops Foot Slip Gets Blame

Suit Against Reading Man For Crash of 2 Cars

The civil suit that Samuel H. Porter, 95-year-old Pottstown businessman, was bringing against a Reading man because of a two-car collision has been withdrawn, morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Porter filed suit against Alfred Aron, Pennside, Reading, as the result of an accident the "past" May 25.

Porter's car, making a left turn onto South Charlotte street, collided with Aron's eastbound car. The suit was scheduled to be tried yesterday.

No reason was announced by Porter's counsel for the withdrawal.

Pottstown Home Show Exhibitors Set to Open Doors to Public Today

It was moving day yesterday at Sunnybrook ballroom for exhibitors furnishing their booths for the Pottstown Home Show.

A constant flow of big vans and tractor-trailers were busy all day long unloading their cargoes at the side entrances to the massive dance hall, converted into a show-place for building products and supplies.

Late last night workmen hurried busily about the hall, making last-minute preparations.

Some workers will be back at the hall at sunrise this morning to complete preparations for the show.

All were confident that everything will be shipshape when the doors open at 2 p. m. for specially invited guests of the State, Montgomery county and the borough governments.

Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood will be the honored guest for the occasion. County officers will represent the commissioners, housing authority and planning commission.

All borough officials have been sent special invitations to attend the formal opening.

The doors will be open for the general public at free admission from 5 to 10 p. m. today. Tomorrow and every day of the show until it closes Wednesday, the ballroom will be open from 1 to 10 p. m.

NICK A. PALLADINO, partner in N. Palladino and Brothers, was stooped down at his model kitchen display polishing shiny white porcelain equipment.

"It's going to be a big show," he said. "I've got about $5000 worth of equipment in this kitchen and in my heating booth."

"There must be more than $350,000 of material on display here," he estimated.

Lining seven rows of booths are colorful tiles and wall coverings, awnings, storm windows, partially constructed patios of PermaStone and brilliant brass light fixtures.

Some women were busy polishing brass and setting tables in booths as though they were clean-

Bridge to Be Fixed

If the weather is clear today there will be a slowdown of traffic on the South Hanover street bridge as workmen of the State Highway department weld loose plates.

Highway workers were busy patching a two-foot square hole in the bridge plate yesterday at noon. They found several loose plates that will require welding today.

One side of the bridge will be closed while the repair operations are conducted. Flagmen will route traffic through the open lane.

CLAUDE A. CROLL was appointed as registrar of persons in the borough over 21 years of age for taxation purposes.

Croll had previously been appointed by the borough council to the post but both bodies must approve the appointment as the cost of the census is shared by the school board and the council on a five-seventh and two-seventh basis.

Ruth A. Yoder, administrative assistant, was appointed to work out the tax duplicates and Principal Swinehart was authorized to contact a representative of an ap-

Car Skids Into Bank, Driver Escapes Harm

One hundred dollars damage was the result of a one-car accident on wet Route 113 in Upper Providence township, two miles south of Trappe, last night.

Elizabeth E. Yerger, 38, Phoenixville, told Troopers Clem Sorksi and Martin Jeffers, of Jeffersonville State police, she applied her brakes on a sharp curve, skidded and turned over into a bank.

She was traveling south on Route 113. The car rolled on its left side on the left bank of the road.

The accident took place at 5 p. m. The driver was not injured. Police estimated damage to the 1941 sedan at $100.

The wrecked vehicle was towed to a service station in Collegeville.

Police, Agents Open Battle Against Dope In Philadelphia Raid

PHILADELPHIA, March 18 (AP)—Federal agents and police smashed their way into 150 homes, restaurants and hotels in every part of the city today in a drive to stamp out narcotics traffic in the underworld.

As the raiders were arresting 82 suspected dope peddlers, Philadelphia Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons announced suspension of Lt. William Leinhaus, veteran head of the narcotics squad. Gibbons ordered Leinhaus to appear before the police trial board on charges of neglect of duty.

Leinhaus said, "I am convinced that I will be absolvedly vindicated when the whole story is told."

More than 60 officers began the raids in the early morning hours. Armed with warrants for 117 persons, they seized, in addition to the alleged peddlers, stores of heroin and marijuana.

JOSEPH M. BRANSKY, district director of the Federal Narcotics bureau, said that the cleanup project actually got underway about ten months ago as a result of (Continued on Page Twenty-three)

Four Goats Waiting For Spring Arrival to See Outside World

Four little nanny goats patiently await the arrival of Spring in a Royersford RD 1 barn.

The quadruplets were born on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Scott, Linfield and Township line roads, Limerick township, in the shivering cold 19 days ago when March roared onto the calendar with a deluge of snow.

And now they await Spring which will skip into the borough tomorrow.

All the female goats have identical markings. They are black except for their ears which are silver.

Mrs. Scott explained last night, "We're awaiting Spring. When the weather gets warmer we want to take them outside. They haven't been out yet."

The Scotts have nine other goats of various ages in their herd. They raise goats because their daughter, Eileen, can drink only goat milk.

The mother of the four little goats had twins in 1951 and triplets this past season. She is brown in color. The quadruplets' father is solid black.

Variety Acts Spark Meeting of Grange

Variety acts, music and singing made up the program of 63 members of Sanaioaga Grange at a meeting last night.

Carl Dunmire acted as master of ceremonies at the business-free session.

Mrs. Ethelbert Bernhardt was one of the few women in the program put on by the men in observance of the annual "Brother's Night" of the Grange. She played the piano.

Samuel Hanna displayed his versatility by playing on auto harp (a type of zither more than 100 years old) and a harmonica, at the same time.

OTHER ENTERTAINERS were Robert Bernard who played the saxophone while his mother, Mrs. Ethelbert Bernhardt, accompanied him on the piano. John Dusko and Henry K. Rahn both delivered readings.

The wind-up of the entertainment came with a hoe down staged by 12 Grange members dressed in mountaineer costumes. The group performed in skits, sang songs and did the square dance.

Local Jaycees Elect New Officers, Make Blood Drive Plans

Election of officers and plans to enlist blood donors highlighted the meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night at the Elks home.

Elected for the new term were Robert Zarger, president succeeding James Christman; Herbert Maack, executive vice president; Arthur Switzer, vice president.

Also, Carl Holman, secretary; Willard Bickel treasurer, and Robert Bohmer and Robert Lewis, board of directors.

The group agreed to begin a drive to enlist donors for the May 1 visit of the bloodmobile here. Lewis is head of the committee.

Parochial Schools to Mark Feast Day of St. Joseph

Parochial schools will be closed and many Catholics will attend half-hour masses today in honor of the Feast of St. Joseph.

St. Joseph is the patron of the universal church, the spouse of the Blessed Virgin and foster father of Jesus Christ. The entire month of March is dedicated to St. Joseph, but today is his feast day.

Borough churches will hold masses this morning on the "suppressed" holy day. It is not a holy day of obligation.

Masses at St. Aloysius' will be at 6:30, 7 and 8 a. m. At St. Peter's and at Holy Trinity, mass will be said at 7:30 a. m., and at St. Gabriel's, Stowe, there will be an 8 a. m. mass.

Motorist to Be Held For Jury in Death of Motorcycle Driver

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, March 18 — A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that authorities hold an 18-year-old motorist for action of the Berks county grand jury following an inquest into the death of Arthur O. Deeter, 46, of 38 North Tenth street, Reading, before Coroner W. J. Rushong.

Flannery was the driver of an automobile that collided with Deeter's motorcycle on Feb. 26 at the intersection of Route 422 and Monocacy road, near Douglassville.

Deeter, who lost his right leg in the crash, died March 3 at Pottstown hospital.

The accident was investigated by State Trooper John Devine, of the West Reading barracks.

Women Push Auto From Fire's Path

Three Green Lane women saved a car from total destruction in a fire that leveled a garage there Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph F. Gaugler Sr., Macoby street, Green Lane, said that as she was returning from a visit, she saw flames fanned by a strong wind coming from the garage.

She and two women neighbors pushed the Gauglers' car most of the way out of the garage.

age, just before flames reached it. Men finished removing it. The car's paint and glass was damaged. The garage, which held $500 worth of tools plus lumber the Gauglers intended to use to build a new garage, was destroyed completely. Green Lane Fire company was called but by then, the fire was out of control.

What may turn out to be the oldest map of the borough of Pottstown still in existence was brought into The Mercury yesterday afternoon.

The map had been forgotten in a bureau of one of Pottstown's families for more than 30 years until a hand-sketched map showing the Pottstown of 1893 was printed in The Mercury yesterday.

The latest map, dating back to 1871, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Richards, 289 Diamond street.

About that time, the borough contained only about 3000 residents and the sketch reflects the sense of roominess, of the wide-open spaces that surrounded the community.

The top arrow points to the northernmost boundary at the time, Jefferson avenue, now only seven blocks from High street.

High street itself at the time was called "Main street," according to the sketch.

Another almost forgotten fact brought out by the map is the Hanover street bridge (lower arrow). The bridge, in 1874, was a covered bridge.

It was originally built in 1820-21 at a cost of only $14,000, but in 1850, a Spring freshet washed the structure down the Schuylkill. Rebuilt two years later at a cost of $12,000, the bridge was still standing when this sketch was drawn.

Mrs. Richards, who has lived in Pottstown for more than half a century, came across the map in the drawer of an old bureau she bought more than 20 years ago.

"I didn't think it was of especial importance, but I did keep it tucked away in a bureau ever since."

According to the legend on the bottom, the map, which measures two by one and one-half inches, was made by the American Olograph company of Milwaukee. It was published by Fowlers and Bailey, address unknown.

The churches, factories, public buildings, homes, and barns are reproduced in amazingly minute detail. Many of the homes depicted—with architectural exactness—are still identifiable.

Plans for Town Betterment Disappear

Good Plans Die
To the Editor: Every once in a while, somebody or some group in Pottstown gripes about a condition and announces some sort of plan which should be followed for improvement.

Most of these plans die soon after and are forgotten.

For instance, whatever happened to the borough safety council that was supposed to have been formed almost a year ago?

We even brought a speaker of the national safety council all the way from New York to offer advice on setting up an organization here.

Now the latest thing which seems to be dying a slow death is the feeble fight Pottstown pastors have put up against smut.

They got a lot of Sunday sermon material out of it but they didn't do much to correct the situation.

Sensible Attitude on Liquor
To the Editor: Your editorial in Monday's Mercury on drinking habits in this country ("Drinking Habits Are Switching") but several nails on the head, all squarely.

As you said, there certainly is a problem of alcoholism in the U.S. but one reason so many people are drinking more moderately is that drinking is considered normal, there's no flat prohibition against it. In short, it no longer has the attraction of sinfulness.

This defeats the short-sighted attitudes of the WCTU, which would overlook the social and economic causes of drinking and simply ban it, period.

That unthinking attitude led to prohibition in this country, with disastrous results that we haven't yet recovered from.

Finally, your editorial pointed out that workers no longer are mere drudges and that they don't have to turn to drink to relieve their frustrations and wipe out the memory of their dismal lives.

When people start to attack the causes of alcoholism, rather than merely preach against drinking, we'll have come a long way toward solving the problem.

House Numbers Needed
To the Editor: Why are Pottstown residents so careless and backward about displaying the street numbers of their houses?

It is next to impossible to find a house in an unfamiliar neighborhood, especially at night, as anyone who has tried it knows.

Householders will stick the numbers any place but where they're easy to read. They may be over the door under a porch roof or hidden behind porch posts or tall shrubbery.

In many cases the numbers are so small that it takes exceptionally good eyesight to read them.

At night, to read most numbers, you have to go up on the porch with a flashlight.

Usually you find yourself on several wrong porches before you find the right one, meanwhile risking arrest as a prowler or Peeping Tom.

Why couldn't everyone use large, luminous numbers that could be read from the street, even in the dark? It would make Pottstown seem friendlier to newcomers and visitors.

A Boom Whose Silence Hollers!

THIS afternoon the Building Industries Exchange of Pottstown and vicinity throws open Sunnyside's doors to its first building show. All preview accounts indicate that it will be a glittering affair, one Pottstown's contractors, builders and allied tradesmen may be proud of.

The Exchange cordially invites everyone to attend. There is no admission charge. But spectators will have their eyes opened to the modern methods used by home builders.

The great expansion of the borough is a silent testimonial to the progressiveness of Pottstown's builders. New housing developments have sprung up like mushrooms in all sections of the community. The contractors have helped make Pottstown a booming town.

Now show attendees can take a look at the newest in everything in the building line. Pottstown boosters should attend this scintillating exhibit.

Do Your Duty
To the Editor: To the Former Cop (Police Force is Law), Reader's Say, March 16, here is his answer.

When you cops should be around, where are you? A lot of people wonder that. But when you shouldn't have your nose poked in something, a dozen of you are around.

For instance, Saturday night, March 14, on High street in Pottstown, a convertible with temporary license plates was making Pottstown a five lane drive instead of a four lane which it is.

Now where were you cops? That is why all the people are down on the cops.

Do your duty and you will have people to back you up.

GOOD MEMORY

A Part of All of Us

A great oak from a little acorn grew when Pottstown's King's Daughters made the first contribution just 60 years ago to what was to become the Pottstown hospital.

Few of the original King's Daughters are alive today, but one, Miss Elizabeth M. Bassett, is recuperating from an illness from which she was cured in the hospital she helped to form.

Sunday the Pottstown hospital, which many times has outgrown its confines, will get another start. Then the board of directors will break ground for a new hospital, made possible by generous contributions of humane Pottstownians.

It will be a utilitarian plant. Frills are absent. Every modern convenience for patient, however, is incorporated in the plans. It will be a monument to health.

Nice part of it, hundreds upon hundreds of Pottstownians may proudly say: "I helped to build that!" It's a hospital for all. Directors may dedicate it with prayers that it will help keep all Pottstown well.

US Tax Court Decides Against Lobbying Group

WASHINGTON March 18—A dollars-and-cents Magna Charta for thousands of small businessmen and farmers was recently framed when the US Tax Court and the US Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond held that contributions to the National Tax Equality Association are not deductible for income tax purposes.

If upheld by the Supreme Court and generally applied, the decision will save many millions a year for gullible customers of such organizations.

The NTEA's principal objective was to persuade Congress to impose a tax on farm and allied co-operatives, which is a legitimate endeavor. But the Federal courts held that its chief activity was "propaganda," and that it was not a bona fide organization entitled to the consideration accorded such groups as the US Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers, recognized labor unions and agricultural associations.

The decision came on an appeal by the American Hardware and Equipment company of Charlotte, N.C., from the original ruling by the Tax court. It had held as nondeductible the firm's contributions of $1800 in 1947 and $1500 in 1948 to NTEA. A similar decision against the Roberts Dairy Company of Omaha, Neb., was upheld by the US Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit.

In view of these two rulings, affirmation by the Supreme Court is anticipated.

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
DORA D. is a college freshman. "Dr. Crane, is it necessary to get promiscuously in order to be popular with men?" she inquired seriously.

"Aren't there any men of high morals nowadays who can enjoy a girl's company without trying to get unduly affectionate on the first date?"

"And how can I hold a boy's interest against the glamour girls in the crowd who drink and smoke and indulge in illicit sexual relations?"

THE AVERAGE girl doesn't study masculine psychology long enough to learn the real secret for captivating a man.

It isn't a girl's kisses primarily that make men surround the glamour girls, nor is it the sexual liberties that they hope for.

They want to feel important! Grown up! Sophisticated! Big shots!

When they crush a girl's lips against their own, do you think there is some special lip chemical that enchants them? Do those lips feel so much warmer or softer than the skin of a girl's hand?

No, it isn't the warmth or perfume or any other chemical substance that miraculously attaches to the lips.

As she surrenders in his arms and closes her eyes for the kiss, he feels himself to be the victor in their previous verbal fencing about love.

A MAN USUALLY loves himself more than any woman he will ever take in his arms. Suppose a glamour girl slouches over toward him and provocatively inquires, "Whatcha doin, Big Boy? How about a little drink with me?"

She affects ultra sophistication. He has previously been somewhat shy.

This glamour girl intimates that he is a big shot, a playboy or man about town. It inflates his ego and makes him seem much more important to himself.

Is it any wonder, then, that he throws out his chest and struts his stuff, trying to live up to the movie stereotype of what he thinks a playboy should do or say?

So you intelligent young women should learn that a bantering tone of voice, and a gay dialogue, wherein you keep furnishing conversational cues to your male companion, will inflate his ego even more than heavy petting.

The most ravishing women can hold their men without even giving the latter a kiss!

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN
HOLLYWOOD, March 18—Denise Day will be heading for Europe this Summer to star in "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes," which Sir Alexander Korda will produce. It's a "sequel" to "Gents Prefer Blondes"—not written by Anita Loos, who penned the famed "first"—but by her niece, Mary Anita Loos and Richard Sale. It will be filmed in color and 3D. Joanne Gilbert, whom Paramount expects will be a top-draw (also top-draw) star by the end of 1953, is getting a new kind of explosion. Most of the night club act that has soared her to fame these past few months, is being photographed. The special reels will be sent to hundreds of theater owners around the country, not only to impress them and inspire them to plug the gal, but also for exhibitors to cut up as they see fit to show audiences as "trailers" from time to time. Good idea, huh?

Charles Laughton

Top-draw (also top-draw) star by the end of 1953, is getting a new kind of explosion.

A GREAT portion of Hollywood is still hysterical laughing today over something that happened at a preview of "Salome." Came the scene where Charles Laughton (as King Herod) is stuffing himself with food, as Rita Hayworth, writhing in sadness, slithers in carrying the head of John, the Baptist on a tray. At that moment someone in the audience yelled, "Man! Dig that crazy dessert!" Susan Zanuck, co-producer of Darryl Zanuck, with well known director-actor, Gregory Ratoff, breaks in a night club act first week in April, either in Las Vegas—San Diego or right in Hollywood—if they don't get cold feet. Susie will use the name Susan Fox while trying her wings on "Wings of Song"—and joke-telling!

Sea-Going Firemen . . . Proud of Grandsons . . .
★ JOLLY BOATING WEATHER—Crewmen of Friendship Hook and Ladder company, Boyertown, had to be sailors as well as firemen Tuesday night when they extinguished a fire along the banks of the Manawau creek near Earlville that was endangering Summer cabins on the other side of the creek. There was no bridge near the place where stumps and brush were being burned and no practicable way of going around to reach the heavily wooded section. So crewmen borrowed a row boat, put an auxiliary pump in it and launched the boat into the strong current of the Manawau. Ralph Roads, a Navy veteran, was given the distinction of rowing. Other firemen were reported to have cried, "Anchors aweigh!" as he started rowing. The fire was extinguished quickly. Company Chief Jack Stauffer, Henry Johnson and Glenwood Weller were among those in on the stunt.

PROUD GRANDPOP — A contender for the title of Pottstown's proudest pop-pop is Ernest T. Handley, plant manager for Firestone Tire and Rubber company. Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Handley now at their Maple Gardens home is their first grandchild, Robert Ernest Turney. He's the son of their daughter, Mrs. Patricia Turner, Akron, Ohio. The Handleys went out to Akron to check up on their brand-new second grandchild, Randall Jones Turney. Randall is for the maiden name of the plant manager's mother. . . . Equal rights: Nearly 19,000 women are holding jobs today, making up almost 30 percent of the labor force.

★ REVERSES TREND—Scores of Pottstown area residents are going to Florida for a short stay in the sunshine these days. People with different ideas are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hilborn, Winter Haven, Fla. They came North to spend two weeks at the home of his father, Ernest Hilborn, Rattlesnake Hill. The son, a former resident of Rattlesnake Hill, also plans to visit friends in the area. He works at Barlow Air base near Winter Haven, and he also flies small planes there. His wife is from Winter Haven. . . . Slips that pass in the night: From the Vermont Standard—"Mrs. Sarah Putnam is poorly this spring—her face is much misused in church, it being always there when she is able to be present."

★ CHIVALRY—Wallace A. Skrocki, 1440 South street, a production analyst for Spicer Manufacturing division, proved himself to be, in the words of a fellow worker, a knight and a human fly the other day. A woman's car was firmly trapped between other cars on the Spicer parking lot. What's more, the car was locked. After scrambling around on the top of the car, Skrocki managed to get a window open, and then he succeeded in maneuvering the car free. . . . Maybe this is right: Old age is the time when men pay more attention to their food than they do to the waitress.

★ GRADUATE—Pvt. Charles Steinfle, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Steinfle, Neiffer road, Schwenksville RD 1, is being graduated Saturday from the clothing and textile repair course at the quartermaster school at Ft. Lee, Va. A graduate of Pottstown Senior High school, Pvt. Steinfle entered the Army the past October. He has been attending the quartermaster school for the past ten weeks. . . . Army Pvt. Walter Ralph Oswald, 21-year-old son of Mrs. Frank Szil Jr., Bechtelsville, is nearing the end of his basic training at Ft. Belvoir, Va., and expects to be home on furlough next month. Before going into the service, he was employed by Boyertown Auto Body Works. . . . Short Sermon: People who don't let grass grow under their feet are most likely to be in clover.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
Science has not yet been able to develop a practical vaccine to prevent a child from getting measles.

We do have a serum which can give a temporary immunity and temporarily keep an attack from becoming severe.

But it is often a task to give this serum in time to do the most good. Usually one attack of measles protects for life.

Most people consider measles a fairly harmless disease. However, it can lead to many complications. Children can develop a severe pneumonia or middle ear infection following an attack of measles.

The most dread complication of measles is encephalitis, or inflammation of the brain. This does not occur very often, but when it does occur it can cause permanent damage to the child's nervous system.

Measles usually starts with a fever which lasts from two to five days. This may be accompanied by watering of the eyes and sensitivity to light, and a strong, deep cough.

The fever usually runs high—up to 105 degrees—and may last from two to three days. Then the child breaks out in a rash—a great number of small red-pimples over the entire body.

Injections of gamma globulin may be taken to ward off the severe complication and reduce the severity of the disease. This serum gives temporary resistance.

However, it must be given at the proper time by a physician, soon after the child has come in contact with another case of measles. If taken in high enough doses, this usually gives the child an immunity to measles for about a month to six weeks.

In most cases, infants from six months up to three years of age should receive one immunizing dose of this serum when exposed to the disease.

This method is also used when it is important to stop the disease from spreading among older children, as in children's homes.

ARTHROSIS PAINS GONE

MRS. ANNA OSKOWSKI, 124 N. DOVER STREET, PHILA., PA., writes: "I had a severe case of Arthritis in my shoulder, knee and leg. The pains were so terrible that I could not move from my bed when I tried to walk or sleep at night. I could barely walk up or down steps. I could not even sit in a chair without pain. I tried everything but nothing helped. After taking Crownhill Mineral Water for three weeks I had absolutely no more pain and now I can walk anywhere."

State Agents Seize Cans of Bad Juice

SCRANTON, March 18.—A State food inspector said tonight authorities have rounded up and destroyed more than 7000 cases of condemned tomato juice, some of which had reached consumer outlets in Easter Pennsylvania.

Field Agent Benedict Vanisky of the State Bureau of Foods and Chemistry said an investigation is in progress to locate the source of the supply. Officials said it was uncertain to what extent the canned juice was tainted, but health authorities ruled it unfit for consumption.

Scranton Magistrate Terrence Murphy Jr., said the investigation was instituted following the arrest here of two men charged with larceny of a truck. Police found a part load of unlabeled cans of the juice in the truck.

2 Veteran Scouters Picked to Lead Jamboree Contingent

Boy Scouts in the Pottstown area contingent going to the national jamboree this summer will have two veteran Scouters as leaders.

They are Robert B. Glenn, scoutmaster of Limerick Citizens' troop 1, and Edward W. Jameson, scoutmaster of St. James' Lutheran troop 18.

Glenn was selected by district Scout officials to lead the jamboree troop as Scoutmaster. Jameson was chosen as assistant.

Between them Glenn and Jameson have more than a dozen years of experience as leaders of Scout troops in this area.

BOTH HAVE taken leadership training courses given by the Continental district, as well as courses in campcraft and other Scouting skills.

They have led their own troops on many camping trips in this area.

At the annual Continental district Scouters banquet in Kopersford the past November, Glenn and Jameson were among those receiving the Scouters' Key for meritorious service to their units.

The two leaders will have charge of a district jamboree troop of more than 30 Scouts who have been picked to represent their individual troops at the third national jamboree at Santa Ana, California.

IN JULY THE Pottstown area troop will join other district contingents from the Valley Forge council for the trip to the West coast in a special train.

They will journey west by the northern route, spend a week at the jamboree tent city on the shores of the Pacific and return to Philadelphia by a southern route.

The cross-country jaunt will also include numerous side trips for the purpose of sight-seeing.

Although the list of jamboree troop members from this area was long given by the Panther patrol, closed officially the past March 1, led by Donald Blum, and another there is still room for one or two on camp layout by the Flying Eagle Scouts who may want to sign on patrol, led by Lee Calen.

The Scouts also made preparations for a scrap paper collection.

DISTRICT SCOUT Executive to be made on Saturday and for a Richard D. Dutcher said he is also board of review on Monday.

Tom Dickison, Richard Miller, Donald Blum and Lee Calen will be up for First Class while John Hartenstein 3d, and Rodney Elliott will stand for Second Class rank.

The troop also has three candidate Scouts, David Gehris, Carl Levensgood and Harold Eck.

Limerick Citizens' troop 1 made plans for the family night program it will hold next Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock in the Limerick Fire company hall.

ONE TROOP using this system is Zion's Reformed troop 5, which discussed jamboree preparations at this week's meeting.

Scoutmaster Wesley Nichols said the troop will probably have its winning Scout selected by the end of May.

Also discussed at the meeting were camp layout, organization and firebuilding.

Scouters Memorial Methodist troop 7 used its meeting time last night for a practice session in field signals.

These consist of arm signals similar to those used by the referee at a football game.

Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Gerald Witman took charge of the meeting in the absence of Scoutmaster Ray Stichter.

FIRESTONE TROOP 19 lent a helping hand to plant employees by painting stakes that will be used to identify individual plots in the plant vegetable garden along Firestone boulevard.

The Scouts painted the stakes white and added a black identification number to each one.

ST. JAMES Lutheran troop 18 entered the third week of its inter-patrol contest, which will run until April 12. The troop also studied campcraft, including tent pitching and menu planning.

TRINITY REFORMED troop 6 saw a demonstration of firebuilding given by the Panther patrol, closed officially the past March 1, led by Donald Blum, and another there is still room for one or two on camp layout by the Flying Eagle Scouts who may want to sign on patrol, led by Lee Calen.

Overheated Pipe Sends Firemen Rushing to Home

An overheated stove pipe sent West End Fire company, Stowe, to Gramercy gardens and the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ralph Yocom along Route 83, near Douglassville, yesterday at 7:45 a. m.

Smoke poured from the pipe under joists in the basement. The overheated section was pulled down before any serious damage was caused. Firemen did not have to go into action. A pump was driven to the scene by Raymond Ezell, chief engineer.

ST. ALOYSIUS Troop 12 took its fourth lesson from instructor John Miller. The lesson consisted of instruction in splints, triangle bandages and the new type of artificial respiration developed during World War II.

COMMITTEEMAN George Strunk helped Scoutmaster Leon and Yetzer instruct Grace Lutheran Troop 15 Scouts on hiking skills this week.

The troop is planning a hike to Daniel Boone's cabin near Birdsboro on March 28.

Explorers of First Methodist troop 1 began a study of pioneering skills at this week's meeting.

The troop has secured a supply of pine logs which it will use to build rustic bridges and lean-tos, including a bridge over a stream on land.

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By BOB REID and CHARLES MEARS

MRS. BETTY FERTIG, 560 High street, has enjoyed cooking ever since she was a little girl. But she never realized that some day she would be preparing menus for scores of persons daily.

The young woman is dietitian at Memorial hospital.

Even when she enrolled at Temple University in Philadelphia in 1946, Mrs. Fertig had no idea she would end up planning meals for hospital patients.

After serving two years and nine months in the Waves during World War II, Mrs. Fertig took advantage of the GI Bill of Rights by attending teachers college at Temple. She wanted to be a home economics teacher.

But soon after her studies began at the university, she found teaching did not offer enough of a challenge. It was too confining. The study of dietetics provided her with a wider field to pursue her childhood cooking hobby.

"I found out that there was much more satisfaction in the field than in teaching home economics," she said. "A dietitian can help persons who are ill and see the results."

Mrs. Fertig has been planning Memorial hospital menus since the past July. Before that she was a clinic dietitian at Pennsylvania and Mt. Sinai hospitals, both in Philadelphia. For a brief period she taught nursing at Chestnut Hill and Pennsylvania hospitals.

But the native Pottstowner always had it in mind to return to the borough whenever the opportunity arose.

"I like it better here at Memorial hospital than anywhere I have worked," she remarked. "Here I have a chance to do every phase of work in planning meals."

"In the bigger Philadelphia hospitals, there is greater specialization. There is not much chance of getting to do the many things I do here."

Starting her day at 7 a.m., Mrs. Fertig goes over the list of patients. This one is a diabetic, no sugar. Another is on a low fat diet, no butter, eggs, cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower or starch foods.

"My biggest problem is getting people to reduce," she said. "It is possible to reduce and still maintain a balanced diet. People just have to eat more vegetables and salads and eat less potatoes."

By experience, Mrs. Fertig can judge accurately how much food will be consumed by the patients. There is no measuring or weighing of potatoes or meat before they are prepared.

"After a person prepares meals for the hospital for a few weeks it gets to be just as easy to cook the right amount as it is for a housewife to prepare a family meal," she remarked.

When her day's work is done at the hospital, Mrs. Fertig practices her profession at her home. She lives with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Root.

"I've got my mother on a low fat diet," she explained. "She has to watch how much butter she uses, eat only one egg every once in a while and substitute broiled or roast meats for fried."

A problem which confronts every dietitian according to Mrs. Fertig, is satisfying individual likes and dislikes.

"What one person will eat, another will not," she said. "It's more or less a problem of contending with different personalities. On the whole, however, people are cooperative when they know they are getting what is best for them."

Mrs. Fertig advises girls interested in cooking will find her field an attractive one.

"It's not crowded in the least," she remarked. "When I graduated in 1950, there was only one other dietitian in my class."

"There are jobs that pay lots more money, but I wouldn't trade mine for anything else. Personal satisfaction means a lot to me."

Mrs. Fertig is a Pottstown High graduate, with the Class of 1940. She joined the Waves in February, 1943, took her boot training at Hunter college, New York, and then served at Atlanta, Ga., and Brunswick, Ga., where she was a control tower operator at the air base.

ZAAC WALTON, ENGLAND'S FATHER OF ANGLING, has nothing on Alfred H. Bewley, fishing enthusiast and game hunter of 364 Walnut street.

Bewley, proprietor of a sports shop at 421 High street, has been a sportsman "ever since I can remember."

Alfred H. Bewley

most likely answer:

"Five days of the week I'm a businessman in Pottstown. The other two days I relax."

Born in Churchtown, Lancaster county in 1905, Bewley moved to Coatesville a year later. Afterwards he came to Pottstown where he graduated from the Senior High school in 1922.

His pluckiness in sports began to show when he played football as a youngster weighing only 105 pounds.

"I held the end position as a varsity player for two years," he recalled. "And I used to oppose some heavy linemen, too."

Requiring a size six shoe, he wore one of the smallest pairs of shoes on the team. He also played two years as shortstop on the varsity baseball team.

Later he played semi pro football with the old Pottstown Steam Rollers.

When he married the former Helen V. Kenney of Pottstown, his love of hunting and fishing presented a problem.

"My wife at first resented my weekend fishing jaunts. But her Irish pluckiness came out in her and first thing you know, she began to go along with me."

"Now she's a lot better plug caster than most men I've seen," he chuckled.

Bewley also hunts small game like pheasants, rabbits, and squirrel. But his big thrill comes in tracking big game like deer and black bears.

"Black bears are difficult to hunt," he explained, "and I'm still looking for my first kill."

Each year he goes up to Canada for fishing and hunting. He and his wife are planning a trip in July to New Brunswick, where they will fish for the elusive Atlantic salmon.

"They are difficult to catch," he explained "and weigh from 12 to 15 pounds each."

Interested in conservation of wildlife, Bewley, commented, "Fishermen and hunters must realize that wanton killing of game and taking of fish from the streams must stop if they wish to find wildlife plentiful in the years to come."

"No one should kill if he has no intention of eating the game, nor should anyone kill more than he intends to eat."

He belongs to the Tri-County Fish and Game association, in which he is chairman of the game committee; Pine Forge Sportsmen's club, Mertstown (Berks county) Rod and Gun club; Pine Forge Sportsmen's club; Pike township Sportsmen's club, and National Rifle association.

Also, Lodge 814, B. P. O. Elks; Stichter Lodge 254, F and AM; Reading Consistory; Moose Lodge 300; Eagles Home association; West End Fire company; Empire Hook and Ladder Fire company; West End Fire company, and Gilbertsville Fire company.

Underwriters Cancel Scheduled Meeting

This afternoon's luncheon meeting of Pottstown association of Life Insurance Underwriters has been canceled, Virgil H. Gates, president, announced.

The board of directors decided to postpone the meeting because of a recent shift in the leadership of the organization.

The former president who resigned in February, William Leiser, had made plans to hold a celebration.

They felt that the new president, Gates, was not allotted enough time after his appointment to plan the affair and voted in favor of canceling it.

The next meeting of the association will be held April 9, at noon at Brookside Country club.

Sixth Grade Studies South America, Completes Units on Colombia, Brazil

By BARBARA GOSWELLIN

The Sixth graders in Mrs. Anna Hahn's room are studying about the countries of South America in geography class.

The units on Brazil and Colombia are completed. A large product map of Brazil was made.

In art class posters of South American birds were drawn and colored. In science class each pupil gave a report on his favorite South American bird.

Some of the favorites are: Herons, Ibises, Toucans, Quetzal, Cock of the Rock, and Flamingos and the Spoonbill.

Potters (local) of each country was made from clay and was painted. After this work was finished, the class decided that the natives of these countries are really skilled to be able to produce such beautiful pieces of handicraft.

ON TOP OF the wardrobe, natural habitats of our local birds were made with logs, stones, branches, etc. Birds were drawn and painted and placed in the habitat where they are found.

The boys and girls are also interested in poetry. A Longfellow folder was made in art class. His life and famous poems with illustrations were put into the folder.

Commercial Class Studies Letters

By PATRICIA LOUGHIN

The Senior commercial class is studying the importance of the well-constructed business letters. This study is important to any commercial pupil who intends to do secretarial work after graduation.

All business letters receive and send many letters daily. Many business conduct a large part of their transactions through correspondence. Business letters are written to make appointments, to order goods, to make adjustments and inquiries, to sell goods and for many other reasons.

In many cases, the general public sees nothing of a company but its letters. Well constructed letters with a pleasant tone are good advertising.

The letters that we, as secretaries, must write for our employers must be plain enough to be understood, but at the same time tactful, so we can put across the ideas that we have in mind.

Our letters must be short and

Today's Psalm

A Psalm each day during the 40 days of Lent, with an accompanying commentary or appreciation by a local clergyman is being published by The Mercury.

The version of the Psalm used is that of the commenting clergyman's church. Today it is taken from the King James Version.

The Psalm for today is the 101st in the Protestant and Hebrew Bibles and the 102nd in the Catholic Bible.

Commentary
By Rev. Charles Trux, Pastor, St. James Methodist Church

Psalm
Why do the heathen rage and the people imagine a vain thing?
The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.
He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.
Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.

Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.
I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.
Ask of me, and I shall give thee: thou shalt have the throne of the Lord, and thou shalt say, My Father is the Lord.
Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron: thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.
Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling.
Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

Most algae grow only when permanently submerged in water.

Verse 12 show that all trust in man in the service of God is vain. Inasmuch as men oppose Christ, it is no good to hang our trust upon the multitude for their number.

Eisenhower Asks Congress Postpone Tax Cuts Till Budget Is Balanced

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today Congress may "reform" taxes but should withhold any tax cuts until a balanced Federal budget is in sight.

At the same time, the President predicted there will be some "complaint . . . friction . . . trouble" now that all Government wage-price controls have been scrapped.

"We must have the faith and courage to stand by our guns all the way through the capital and in the nation."

"So, possibly, just the plain workings of economic law will re-establish itself as a sound system for a country such as ours. Certainly that is our plan and hope."

ADDRESSING a group of 150 business leaders, Eisenhower said he thought he could be fairly described as "middle of the road" in his thinking, and declared he wants to avoid a one-sided economy weighted either in the direction of management or labor.

"Let's not get too far to one side or the other," he said.

Eisenhower was greeted with a roar of applause as he entered the luncheon meeting of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, held in the ballroom of the Mayflower hotel.

Newsmen were not permitted to attend, but a transcript of the President's informal remarks was released later.

ON THE SUBJECT of taxes, Eisenhower again hit out at any suggestion of reducing taxes until the Government can get away from red ink spending.

Emphasizing the burden of some 80 billion dollars in obligations inherited from past Administrations, Eisenhower told the business executives:

"Now, we claim that unless we balance the budget, there will never be any lowering of taxes, because we thoroughly believe that an unbalanced budget is the greatest possible spur to a continued cheapening of our money."

"If the money continues to cheapen, our idea is that we will never catch up with the indebtedness, never have a balanced budget; therefore, there will never be a lowering of taxes in the long run."

"So we think there is no choice as to the order in which these things must be accomplished. We must have a balanced budget in sight, a proved capability, before we can begin to lower revenue."

Record Girl Family Increases by One

WATERVILLE, Me., March 18 (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brooks ran their national record string of daughters to 13 tonight with the birth of a healthy, eight-pound, two-ounce girl they named Lorene Avis.

Both parents beamed with pleasure and relief — at the end of a week's suspense — after the three-hour delivery at Osteopathic hospital.

"I knew it would be a girl," the 37-year-old Pittsfield father shouted as he streaked upstairs with a big smile to the delivery room.

Mrs. Brooks, 37, also was in high spirits. She cuddled her new daughter for a few moments before the child was placed in the hospital nursery.

LIKE ALL HER sisters, Lorene Avis has blue eyes. But hospital

RB-36 Bomber CRASHES, BURNS IN NORTHLAND

Bodies of Seven Found By Searching Party, 16 Missing

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., March 18 (AP) — A big ten-engine United States RB-36 bomber with 23 persons reported aboard crashed and burned on Newfoundland's isolated East coast today. Early reports said seven bodies had been located.

Woodsmen reached the scene after hearing the pre-dawn explosion and later told of finding the unburned bodies scattered on the snow around the charred wreckage. There was no early indication as to the fate of the other 16 persons believed to have been in the plane.

Air force officials gave no confirmation of the casualties and said only that search parties were enroute to the crash scene.

A US C-47 transport dropped a Royal Canadian airforce parachute rescue team beside the wreck in fast-fading light this evening but no radio reports had been received from them some hours later.

A ROYAL Canadian mounted police constable from Clarendville headed for the scene after the first crash report reached him via motorboat and telephone from Burgoynes cove on the shores of Smith sound, about 45 air miles northwest of here.

The first message to the Clarendville police detachment identified the place as an RCAF aircraft, but the US Northeast command headquarters said the crash time "reasonably coincided" with the flight plan of a missing strategic reconnaissance aircraft expected to pass through the Gander area enroute to its base at Rapid City, S. D.

It had been on a training flight to the Azores.

Two British Jets Crash in Mid-Air As Marshal Tito Watches Pageant

LONDON, March 18 (AP) — A horrid 625-mile-an-hour Gloucester refueler British jet fighters met in mid-air today, one of them crashing in flames during an air show today in his honor.

Both Royal air force pilots were killed. The tragedy stunned Tito and more than a score of high-ranking British and Yugoslav officials gathered to witness a spectacular display of British aerial might at the Duxford RAF base, 50 miles north of London.

The visiting Yugoslav Communist President jumped to his feet and his tanned face whitened as the two low-flying silver jets collided overhead near the end of a runway. They had been flying in tight formation with 22 other jets and, in changing position, one crashed into the tail of the other.

19-Year-Old Soldier Saves Life of Colonel Trapped in Bunker

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP) — The United States today demanded punishment for the Russian pilot who attacked an American plane off Soviet Kamchatka Sunday.

The note to Moscow said this country "expects" quick word on the disciplinary measures taken against the pilot and steps by the Reds to make sure nothing of the sort happens again.

The Air Force announced the incident yesterday, reporting that two MIG 15 jet fighters intercepted the American B-54 bomber on a weather reconnaissance flight 25 miles off the coast of the Siberian peninsula and about 100 miles northeast of the Soviet base at Petropavlovsk.

One jet stayed overhead, the Air Force said, but the other swooped down in a firing pass. The American tail gunner, following the MIG with his sights but holding his fire until the attacker opened up with his guns, returned the fire. The jet broke off with no apparent damage to either craft, and the B-54 sped back to its Alaskan base.

High Pentagon officers let that be known after they had studied reports on the Sunday encounter. Military officials who would not be named also said the armed services had won out over an effort by the State department to have the announcement of the incident delayed. State department officials, however, said they knew of no request for such a delay.

IT WAS THE first confirmed case of a two-way fight between American and Red military planes outside the war zone in Korea, though there have been Communist attacks on American craft in the European area which did not or could not shoot back. Return fire orders were given in Germany the past week after jets from Czechoslovakia downed an American fighter.

The diplomatic protest to Moscow was a follow-up to word from the Pentagon that the US Air Force will keep right on flying wherever it wants to in the world's free-air space, despite the shooting challenge over the North Pacific area.

The Air Force said, but the other swooped down in a firing pass. The American tail gunner, following the MIG with his sights but "He saved everybody's life in that bunker," said Pfc William Wozniak of Neselle, Wash., who was with the wounded officer whose name was withheld.

"I think God was really with me that time," Stanley said after he had been found by Second division officers who had been looking for him since yesterday after the colonel told how the Negro soldier had saved his life. "I know he was."

IN MANSFIELD, his parents, Aubrey and Blanche Stanley, said they first thought their son was dead when they heard about his feat in a radio broadcast.

"I jumped straight up into the air," his mother said. "I left my dishes I was washing and ran to the radio and then I heard him say that my boy had said, 'the Lord was with me,' and I knew he was still alive."

His father commented: "He done something I don't think I could have done. The Lord sure must have been with him."

The Louisiana soldier said he killed eight Chinese who attacked the bunker over a period of almost four hours.

Yugoslav military needs are known to be on the agenda of Tito's talks with Prime Minister Churchill and other British leaders which began with a two-hour session yesterday and are to continue tomorrow.

BRITISH DEFENSE Minister Lord Alexander and possibly budget chief Richard A. Butler will join the discussions tomorrow.

Western cold war strategy in the light of Stalin's death, tighter Anglo-Yugoslav co-operation and economic aid also are being discussed.

On his return to London from Duxford, Tito's party stopped at Cambridge university, where they visited the world-famous school and its experimental laboratories.

Lions Club Will Sponsor Little League

The Little League of Spring City will be operated under an organization of its own, sponsored by the Spring City Lions' club, according to plans announced by Lions Club president, Ivan C. Young.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive board of the Lions club Tuesday night, as a result of an invitation to sponsor the league from the play ground committee, under whose supervision the baseball league operated the past season.

A meeting of all persons in the community interested in the Little League baseball program has been announced for Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock in the dining room of the Spring City hotel. The purpose of this meeting is to organize a separate board of control for the Little League which will carry on its activities.

All adults willing to help out in the program, managers, scorers, umpires, etc., are invited to attend.

Woman's Club Hears Professor Speak on Russian Propaganda

Dr. D. Lincoln Harter, a professor of political science at University of Pennsylvania, declared the Russian government has a corner on all communication lines, in a talk before Royersford Woman's club yesterday afternoon.

The college professor discussed "Combating Russian Propaganda" and offered ways to counter it at a time after describing how the leaders control the masses.

He went on to say that most of the leaders have never been out of the country and have a corner on all communication lines.

The result is that one generation after another grows up hearing of world events only as the Russian newspapers care to tell it.

To establish counter propaganda, Dr. Harter advised that the U.S. send propaganda directly to the top men of the Russian government, to whom the propaganda of force alone appeals.

And, he said, we need to counteract Russian propaganda here by realizing that some of the worst enemies freedom has are "ambitious demagogues like McCarran and McCarthy and their followers," who do the cause of freedom great harm.

Mrs. Carl B. Metz, president, conducted the business meeting, which included reports of committees.

High Voltage Line Falls

Sixth Grade Pupils Learn of Cartagena In Geography Class

By PAUL MITCHELL

In Mrs. Rothenberger's Sixth grade class in geography we are studying the countries of the Northern Andes, Colombia, Venezuela and Ecuador.

We found the study of Cartagena, the old 'Treasure Port' where the early Spaniards stored their treasure was thrilling.

Betsy Fillman and Esther Marquette are reading a book on Simon Bolivar, the great liberator of many South American countries, from which they will bring reports to the class.

Today we are beginning a study of the Battle of Gettysburg. During our study of the Civil War we made a special study of this battle because it was the turning point of the war and because Gettysburg is close to home.

Our front bulletin board is gay and colorful with water colors of our native birds. The past week we painted some South American and other foreign birds which we mounted for the bulletin board.

Cotton Murals Made By Fifth Grade Class

By CAROL GROTH

In Mr. Wanne's Fifth grade we are making a mural about cotton. We have just finished studying about cotton in our geography books and are starting to study the Western states.

In order to see how many perfect papers our class had in spelling, we have made a spelling chart for the girls and one for the boys.

It also shows each person's progress week by week.

Pictures of Birds Mounted by Class

By PATRICIA CISIK

In Fourth grade 7, Mrs. Benty teacher, we have been busy studying the different kinds of birds. Our class drew pictures of them mounted them and placed them on the bulletin board.

The colors of the mounted birds lend a colorful air to the room. We have also finished drawing a mural portraying a Spring scene which was placed in the hall of our school.

In our literary club meeting held every Friday after lunch it was decided to take a trip at the close of school to Valley Forge.

Wedding Rites Held in Her Home Unites in Marriage Josephine Miles and Her Bridegroom from Michigan

Against a background of white carnations and white snapdragons, Josephine June Miles, Honeybrook, became the bride of John Junior Dentel, Ida, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Miles, Jr., Honeybrook, are the parents of the bride.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dentel, Ida, Mich.

Performing the evening ceremony, held in the home of the bride's parents was the Rev. Orville S. Condrick, pastor of the Honeybrook Presbyterian church. Lenore G. Supplee was pianist for the double ring service and vocalist was Mrs. Charles Millard 2d.

For the bride's entrance, Mrs. Supplee played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length frock of beige lace. Its skirt was styled with three tiers. Atop her white prayerbook she carried white gardenias and white roses, while tiny white rosebuds were knotted into the streamers.

Matron of honor was a sister of the bride, Mrs. Nelson Jackson.

For her role as honor attendant, she wore a nylon dress of rose beige and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of yellow roses.

Best man was Richard Dentel, Ida, Mich., a brother of the groom. Serving as ushers were Charles I. Miles and Nelson Jackson.

After the service, the 60 wedding guests attended a reception held in the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian church.

White wedding bells decked the receiving room and the bride's table was centered with a white fringed, three tier wedding cake.

To receive guests, the bride's mother chose a gown of navy blue lace and a corsage of yellow roses.

Whites Are Top Style News at JWLV Exhibit

Varying shades of white from pure white cotton to oyster white lace, predominated at yesterday's dresser style show sponsored by the Jewish Women's League at Lakeside Inn.

Daffodils on the tables set the Spring note as viewers spooned chiffon pie and coffee before the models appeared.

As Mrs. Morris Leblang commented on each fashion, models walked through a doorway to a soft backdrop of record music. With morning wear, afternoon cottons and evening dress, the show included new Spring styles for all occasions — even fur jackets, capes and stoles.

Representative of the cotton group was a white pique dress with a yellow silk tie at the waist flaring across the bodice with glass buttons with iridescent pearl centers.

White appeared again in the coats with a bracelet sleeved droop coat topped by a pearl and rhinestone clustered collar which emphasized the coronation in fluence.

In the suit division white formed the background for a gray and charcoal stripe-stoled jacket worn with a solid gray knife pleated skirt.

Sequins, rhinestones and tear drop crystals covered the Chantilly lace dance dress in an oyster white shade.

A bright three piece ensemble was shown in the more traditional navy blue for Easter outfits. The navy suit featured a lined jacket which matched its red and white silk blouse.

Winners of the three door prizes were Mrs. C. S. Leventhal Mrs. Jack Leblang and Mrs. Bernard DaBrow.

Honorees for the affair included Mrs. Jack Leblang chairman Mrs. Albert Leblang Mrs. Lawrence Palmer Mrs. I. Stanley Bressler Mrs. Louis Markowitz and Mrs. Morris Hoffman.

The custom of placing money gifts in a chest for church repair and reconstruction dates from Biblical times, from the reign of King Josiah.

One of the Old Testament Hebrew kings, he decided that his temple needed rebuilding. To collect money from his people, he placed a chest at the temple's gates and asked that it be filled.

Presbyterians celebrate the occasion annually under the Women's association sponsorship.

The Earl Millers Invite 5th Grade Class Of Daughter to Celebrate Pearl's 11 Years

Pearl Elaine Miller's whole Fifth Grade class helped her celebrate her 11th birthday anniversary. Thirty-four West Pottsgrove pupils joined Pearl in her family's luncheonette in Stowe at the party Monday.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller, Grosstown road, Stowe, and will honor her official birth date tomorrow.

Mrs. Miller baked a merry-go-round cake for her daughter. Each of the tiny animals held a candle. All of the guests had a cupcake topped with a candle, too. When Pearl blew, her guests blew with her.

Balloon-gursting and bubble-blowing were games played by the children.

Guests not included in her class were Mrs. Wallace Tyson, an aunt, and Judith Schuit.

Parkerford Girl Scouts Tour Philadelphia Art Museum Where They Decide 15th and 16th Century Paintings Are Best of All

Art and the trip to Philadelphia's art museum were discussed by Parkerford Girl Scouts Tuesday in the Brethren church.

Troop 100 went to the museum the past Sunday as a fulfillment of Busy Bee patrol's art badge. The girls were particularly impressed by 15th and 16th century art.

Art, they felt, at that time was easier to understand. There were more pictures of people then and fewer of flowers, fruit and strange lines.

Elsie Malenke, mother-in-law of the leader, directed flower sketching and led discussion of great artists.

All practiced their play, "The Perfect Girl Scout Troop 100," which they will present March 25 in the church at a covered-dish special.

Joyce Retner, Busy Bee patrol assistant leader, led business discussion. Square dance, Skip to My Lou, was recited by the troop.

Present were: Sharon Lucis, Joanne Somogyi, Dorothea Lederer, Kay Moyer, Jane and Susan Rinehart, Dorothy and Catherine Swavely and Shirley Schollenberger.

Nettie Davidshoffer, Marcia Manger, Nancy Berkey, Laura Fegely, Mrs. Parker Malenke, leader, and Rose Ellen Kugler, assistant leader.

Pottsgrove Firewomen Greet Member

One new member was welcomed by Upper Pottsgrove Fire company auxiliary Monday night.

Susan Auman was greeted into the group at the fire house.

Chairman of the men's ways and means committee, Collier Rhoads came to report on the ham supper, May 2, in the fire house. He asked for the women's aid and support.

Birthday greetings were given to Betty Mohn and Kathryn Gerhart.

The "pig" donated by Kathryn Gerhart was won by Stella Mock.

Irish songs were sung and refreshments were served by Stella Mock and Clea Workheiser, who had opened the meeting with prayer.

Women will meet again at 8 p. m., April 20.

Schwenksville Gets Early Start in Bid To Make Up for Its Grid, Cage Setbacks

In Schwenksville, it's becoming mandatory to pose as whipping Dick Ludy and Gerry Grim are the posts for two-thirds of the school returnees. And they'll be bolstered athletic year and then turn into a diamond terror comes Spring.

This year Mike Hader and his Bluebird minions might have a tougher time than ever at hauling their school from out of the sporting doldrums, but nevertheless nobody can say they didn't get up early to look for their worms.

For as has been the habit in recent years among the baseball-loving clans surrounding the Perkiomen in that vicinity, the Bluebird baseballers got the jump on the remainder of the schools in starting baseball drills.

They've been at it full tilt since their cage season closed down Feb. 27 with a 14th consecutive licking. Eighteen boys reported so far. A low court, granted, for Schwenksville in the Spring, but Hader has the nucleus to build another annoying club.

Outfielder Paul McCoy, infielder Bud Robbins and pitcher Rod Kinchen look to be the bellwethers of yet. The Fales spent some time the varsity squad, with strong aid in their first day in general warm-ups expected from pitcher-outfielder up with some fly shagging in the Charley Kulp and converted in-outfield. Adverse weather had ruled out any kind of infield work.

WP is strongest around the inner cordon with three infielders and chers loosening up for a couple of weeks, with the full varsity squad, double at first base its forte. Dick of 23 having been out since the Geisler, Leidy Gaugler and Dale past Friday. Coach Warren Fry Neiman are all proven groundies well padded with six lettermen gobblers with southpaw Al Dori land two others that would have the probable compliment of that lettered were it not for inopportune injuries, in shooting for wins in his inaugural with Birdsboro, and in the Perkiomen-Schuylkill opener, April 7, at Collegeville.

Big Jack Weissman split the cords foot two inch Senior carried the Schuylkill opener, April 7, at Collegeville. Infielders Darv Schanley and Dave Erb, outfielders Randy Stauffer and Harrisburg at the Pa. State League tonight.

Outside of returnee Sam Daub, however, there is little to offer in the outfield. Paul Fontana, a husky Soph who played regularly in the pasture the past year, will likely be out (Continued on Page Twenty-Two)

URW Awarded City League Crown on Forfeit

Indiana Wins NCAA Tourney, 69-68, Huskies Top LSU

KANSAS CITY, March 18 (AP)—A free throw by Bob Leonard with 27 seconds to go gave Indiana a pulsating 69 to 68 victory over scrapping Kansas tonight for the National Collegiate Basketball championship.

It was a tingling battle tied 10 times which went down the stretch with the teams never more than three points apart in the final period.

Washington was the third place consolation by humbling Louisiana State 56-49 with big Bob Houbregs scoring 42 points.

The championship game had all the thrills of an A-grade movie. After Leonard, fouled by Dean Kelley of Kansas, had made good on the second of two free throws, missing the first, Coach Forrest (Phog) Allen called his Jayhawks to the bench for what was to be the final winning strategy.

THE HAWKS took the ball out and passed to the forecourt, watching the clock with every move. Jerry Alberts, a substitute who came into the conflict when pivot star B. H. Born was called out on personals, took a one hand push shot from the side as the clock registered six seconds to go.

The ball never had a chance. It slammed against the rim amidst the groans of the partisan sell-out crowd of 10,500 and it was banged out of bounds by an unidentified Kansas hand. It was Indiana's ball as the game ended.

It was Don Schlundt, Indiana's blond bombshell, who shattered Kansas' almost fanatical pressing defense and brought the Hoosiers their second NCAA championship. The Indiana won their first and only other in 1940 when they defeated Kansas in this same auditorium 69-42.

Schlundt, a 6-foot-9, 210-pounder with the grace of a cat and the delicate shooting touch of a violinist, poured 30 points through the hoops to win an individual scoring duel with Born, who had 26 when he went to the sidelines on personals, with 5:36 left in the last period.

A few moments earlier the gangling, Born had been the center of a controversy that saw tempers flare and charges hurled by the rival coaches.

WHEN BORN banged into Indiana's Charlie Kraak, with the score 53-52 in favor of Kansas and a minute to play in the third period, the official scorer blew his whistle and called Born out of the game on five fouls.

The Kansas bench and Coach Allen put up a strong protest and, after a check all around, the scorer changed his decision and said Born could stay in.

This brought big, white-haired Branch McCracken, the Indiana coach, storming to the table.

There was a mild flurry. The decision appeared to be reversed. The crowd boomed the Frenchman and then reversed again as the crowd yelled: "No, four, four."

HORROCKS UPHOLDS PROTEST AFTER LATE START

Coffee Cup won a game last night but apparently lost its chance to win the City Basketball league playoff championship because of forfeit awarded to URW.

After the contest was over, with Coffee Cup on top, 67-63, URW manager Bill Rhoades protested to league director Howard Horrocks that because the game started 30 minutes late he was proclaiming a forfeit.

He had announced his intentions to Horrocks before the game started, and since the league by-laws state only a 15-minute grace period must be given, the director upheld Rhoades' protest.

URW therefore was declared the playoff champ, already having defeated Coffee Cup in the opener of the three-game series.

But the matter may not be closed. Coffee Cup's manager, Dick Dianni, said he was not told about Rhoades calling for a forfeit before the game started. He said he will file a formal protest with the league, on the basis that the game should not have been played if URW wanted to win it on a forfeit.

The game was scheduled to start at 9 o'clock. Coffee Cup had only four members in uniform and not until after 9:30 did Jim Ruyak appear as the Cuppers' fifth man. Len Bernhardt showed up a short time after the game started giving Coffee Cup six players.

Just before the opening tap

Rhoades told Horrocks he would play the game, but wanted a forfeit because the game was starting well past the grace period.

Langlois Decisions Dykes to Stay Unbeaten as Middle

DALLAS, March 18 (AP)—Pierre Langlois won a unanimous ten-round decision over Bobby Dykes of San Antonio tonight.

The bushy-haired Frenchman got the decision with his eternal baring in tactics and his general aggressiveness.

The squat young man from Pont-Audemer, France, thus remained undefeated as a middleweight. It was his fourth decision in this class.

Langlois is ranked No. 4 nationally while Dykes holds the No. 9 rating.

Langlois weighed 161½ pounds, Dykes 154½.

A crowd of 6000 -- one of the largest fight crowds in Texas history--saw the nationally televised bout.

JUDGE J. O. Cherry gave Dykes 94 points. Langlois 96. Judge James Harris gave Dykes 93 points. Langlois 96. Referee Homer Hendrix voted 92 points for Langlois and 84 for Dykes.

Dykes made a fine finish but Langlois had rolled up too many points in the middle rounds.

There were no knockdowns but twice Dykes slid to the canvas because of being pushed by Langlois.

The second time this occurred -- in the tenth round -- when Langlois slung his opponent to the floor, the crowd boomed the Frenchman and then reversed again as the crowd yelled: "No, four, four."

Langlois extended his hands apologetically.

Y LEAGUE PLAYS FINAL

The YMCA Senior League crown will be filled for size tonight by either the Eagles or Cardinals in their final playoff game at 7:30 o'clock.

The three game series stands at 1-1. After winning the first game, the Eagles dropped the second match to the Cards, 6-62. It was only the second loss of the season for the Eagles, the regular season champs of the Y loop.

Coach Nick Colasanti will start Bill Missimer, Josh Collins, Gene Shaner, Stan Levengood and Cal Swavely, standing by for reserve duty himself. Pat Antonio's Eagles will probably open with Dick Powell, Jim Price, John Hillegas, Merrill Remniger and Jim Ruyak. Antonio may be called on for fulltime duty if Hillegas is unable to play because of shift work.

Midway in the third period URW narrowed the gap as Bedi, who was high for his team with 22 points, scored six straight points.

His competitor for high honors, Dick Powell (23), kept the Cuppers on top, 39-34, with a set, but Bedi's long shot and a three-point play by Bill Bayer, evened the count at 39 all.

It was deadlocked again at 41 when Ruyak and Anderson traded fielders, and knotted a short time later at 46-46. A foul by Anderson gave the Workers a fast 47-46 lead, but Bernhardt again saved the period with two jumpers just before the end, CC on top, 50-47.

POWELL PACED the drive down the home stretch for the winners (or losers, as you please). He drove hard for five fielders on some outstanding shots. Jack Kuriz, a 14 point man for URW, sent three pushers through the cords to keep the score on an even keel down to the last minute and a half of play.

After Bernhardt missed a pair of fouls when the score was tied at 63-63, Bill Missimer took the rebound, faded from the basket on a jump shot and score two points. It was Bill's only fielder of the night but proved to be the points that gave CC the edge.

Powell drove in for the last fielder in the dying seconds.

Bayer, the league's top scorer, was unable to hit from inside, although his rebound work gave him plenty of chances to score. He finished with only eight.

Bernhardt trailed Powell in scoring for CC. He drove and jumped for 16 points on some clever shots.

YEADON KEEPS ON ROLLING; BELTS HARRIS

HARRISBURG, March 18 (AP) — An underrated Yeardon High tonight scored its fourth successive PIAA basketball playoff conquest, 59-44, over Harrisburg John Harris to enter the Eastern Regional final.

In other Class A action Johnstown of District 6 swamped Berlin, 87-43, to qualify for a second round try against Sharon Saturday. Meadville scored an upset 52-49 victory over Sharpsville at New Wilmington to clinch the District 10 Class A title, the last of 11 to be settled.

Yeardon, actually a Class B school in Delaware county competing in A ranks and a district titlist for the first time outclassed John Harris almost from the beginning of the game at Philadelphia. The Eagles from District 1 held a 20-9 first quarter lead, increased it to 31-16 at halftime and coasted the rest of the way. Harris had won District 3 honors for the first time in its history.

In repeating as District 10 champs, Meadville stopped a Sharpsville winning team that had reached 23 games.

Old Forge and Pittsburgh Westinghouse had previously joined Allentown and Sharon in the quarterfinal bracket.

Old Forge (Dist. 2) won a berth opposite Allentown, 1951 State champ, in the Eastern preliminary regional game by scoring an impressive eye-catching 71-42 victory over the District 4 kingpin, Coal Twp., yesterday.

THE WESTINGHOUSE Bulldogs survived their first test in a bid for the Western Class A crown by the margin of a last minute foul shot. Dave Nunlist made it good to give the District 8 leaders a 50-55 decision over Bradford of District 9.

The lineup of district champions competing for the Class B diadem was completed today with the crowning of one perennial winner and one newcomer. Kutztown, B-champ in 1950 and 1951 and a finalist last season, routed Boiling Springs to settle the district 3 picture while Cresson edged Adams twp., 59-57, for the district 6 title.

for the season after a pending operation on his knee.

Defending champ Royerford also opened drills the past Monday, boasting five proven lettermen from the crown-winning squad of 1952, led by league bat champ Bob Quinn.

A relatively small gathering of 50 greeted coach Bob McNelly the first day out, but he too is endowed with a fine core to build around. Quinn, a third sacker the past year, will be a catcher this year, with pitcher Bill Rogers, infielders Mark Horner and Charley Miller and utility man Jack Strunk the other holdover.

Shortstop Lou Alexander is still in school, but is ineligible for play this season because of his age. The "Fords" also lost first-string first sacker Jake Troutwine because of scholastic entanglements.

COACH BOB Hackman of Collegeville expects a respectable turnout of around 30, when he makes his first squad call this coming Monday.

He'll have an entire infield in fact left over from the past season, along with two gardeners and one full time pitcher. Two of the infielders double on the mound also.

Carl Weigner, Fran McManus, Jim and Gerry Hefelinger compose the inner circle from first around, with Bill Yeagle and Leroy Clarke the letter-winning flycatchers.

Right-hander Bill Korznik, a surprise in his Soph season, bulwarks the hill staff with southpaw Weigner and McManus rounding out the corps.

Moving Day for This Quartet

These are the top figures involved in the big shift of the Boston Braves to Milwaukee. Louis Perini, second from right, president of the Braves, stands next to his manager, Charlie Grimm, second from left. To Grimm's right is Charles Perini, vice president of the club, and Braves General Manager Bob Quinn at right. The National league gave its unanimous approval to move the team from Boston to Milwaukee.

1st Change in 50 Years

National League Approves Move Of Boston Braves to Milwaukee

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 18 (AP) — The Boston Braves, a charter member of the National league, shifted to Milwaukee today in the first change in the major league baseball lineup in a half century.

The transfer, requested by owner Louis Perini after several losing seasons in Boston, was approved unanimously by the owners of the seven other National league clubs.

The American association, whose territory was invaded by the major league, also gave its assent to the move by a 7-1 vote. The Milwaukee franchise, owned by the Braves and operated by them for the past several years as a farm club, was transferred to Toledo, now "open" territory.

The changes will become effective with the opening of the seasons of the two leagues next month.

The Milwaukee club, to be known as the Milwaukee Braves, will become one of the western clubs of the National league, taking over the schedule previously drawn up for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Pittsburgh will move into the Eastern division, assuming Boston's schedule.

The 1953 All-Star game, previously scheduled to be played at Braves Field July 14, was awarded to Cincinnati.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE'S action, taken in a 3½ hour meeting here, was directly opposite to that of the American league, which refused on Monday to permit Bill Veeck to shift the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore.

The circumstances were different, however. Perini already owned the Milwaukee franchise and presented plans by which the move could be made with a minimum of difficulty. Veeck's proposal was to move into a city where he had no established connections and where he would have to start from scratch less than a month before the opening of the season.

The American association readily accepted Perini's offer of $50,000 as compensation for the invasion of its territory.

Actually, this was a minor point in the negotiations. There was no great problem about relocating the Milwaukee franchise. The Toledo territory had been vacant ever since that club was shifted to Charleston, W. Va., last year.

No National league action on the payment was necessary. As soon as Warren Giles, National league president, heard of the association vote, he exclaimed:

"That's official. We're in Milwaukee."

Today's change marked the first time a major league franchise has been shifted from one city to another since 1903, when the Baltimore American league franchise was moved to New York.

IT ALSO MARKED the third time Milwaukee has become a major league city. Milwaukee held a membership in the National league in 1878, two years after it was founded, and in the American league in 1901.

Perini, who said he had lost over $1,000,000 in Boston, expressed deep appreciation of the co-operation of the other National league owners in approving the shift.

"Naturally, I have some regrets. My regrets are based entirely upon the fact that we are going to disappoint the New England fans." He said.

"Also, I regret shifting the franchise from a city which has had major league baseball for some 75 years. I feel very strongly, and I'll stand on it, that this move not only was for the best interests of the Braves but also for the best interests of the National league and for baseball. I am not interested in the amount of money the Braves lost last year. That had no motivating effect."

"What did motivate the move was advent of television which has made Boston a one-team city. Secondly, the enthusiasm of the fans waned considerably."

THE MILWAUKEE club will open its National league schedule at Cincinnati on April 13 and will play its first home game in the new $5,000,000 stadium the following day.

The county-owned stadium, which was recently completed, seats 35,911 spectators. That was considered ample for the American association club, which had planned to play its games there after many years at Borchert field. But for a major league club its capacity will be increased to 47,000.

Dave Grote, National league service bureau head, said arrangements already had been made to add 12,000 seats.

Perini, confident that the shift would go through, sent his ground crew from Boston to Milwaukee several days ago to prepare for the season opening. The double-deck grandstand has 28,011 seats.

Phillies' Ted Kazanski Rates as Team's Greatest Prospect

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 18 — There was enough Philadelphia brass in left field to start a band. There was Phillie President Bob Carpenter, Johnny Nee, director of player personnel; minor league director Joe Reardon; midwestern scout Eddie Krajcik and eastern scout Chuck Ward.

They were looking toward shortstop-looking Ted Kazanski, the $100,000 bonus teenager who is a carbon copy of Marty Marion when he was known as Mr. Shortstop.

It was unnecessary to be sold a bill of goods because Kazanski will not play in the major leagues until 1956. He will be Baltimore's shortstop this season and along about August he will be called up for two years of Army duty.

The Phillies brass would rather talk about Manager Steve O'Neill's chances of leading the former Whiz Kids to a pennant in the National league, but one by one we called them over to talk about the youngster.

Carpenter, who is about as restless as a first time father, said:

"I had one chance to get Kazanski. It looked like Detroit or the Yankees. I flew out to Detroit with Reardon. We left Wilmington late at night and got there just at the stroke of midnight, the day the kid was graduated from St. Ladislaus High.

"I asked him if he wanted to play for the Phillies and told him I would make him one offer. I offered him $100,000."

ERSTWHILE ball clubs from Upper Perkiomen High and Ursinus college have also been reported as having contacted tourney director Len Bernhardt, yesterday.

and at 3 o'clock in the morning we had him. We got to bed at 5 a. m. The date was June 11, 1951."

Nee said:

"He's the greatest young shortstop I ever saw. He has great baseball instinct and can do everything."

Reardon said:

"We like his hands, and everything about him."

Krajcik, who has seven of his proteges — Robin Roberts, Bob Miller, Paul Stuffer, Stan Lopata, Richie Ashburn, Mel Clark and John Mayo — on the Phillies, said:

"He's 19 now and I saw him play a school game at Windsor, Canada, when he was 15. I remember when a scout would go into a bank and change a $100 into crisp new singles, throw the money on a bed in a hotel room and say 'it's yours if you sign with us.' But I was thinking in terms of a big bonus when I first saw this gangling kid."

Ward, ex-Pittsburgh and Brooklyn shortstop, said:

"He was with Montpelier in the Northern League in 1950. That's just so does Kazanski."

the league that produced Roberts. "Don't miss this kid," I said. "He's the best I ever saw." Bob said "this kid must be great. You never said so many nice things about Roberts when you signed him."

Kazanski, a 6-2 boy weighing 180 pounds, throws like Marion, walks like him and even covers ground like the ex-Cardinal star.

When his side came to bat he went over to the bench.

You didn't hit too well those two months at Terre Haute in 1951 or at Schenectady last year. Does that worry you?"

"Oh, I guess that will come later, at least I hope so," he said.

What did he do with his first three annual $20,000 bonus checks?

After $6900 tax deduction on the first the balance went to pay off the mortgage on the house owned by Jerry Dzierda, his stepfather. His next two went into real estate.

The Phillies, too, have some real estate lined up for Kazanski. It's a piece of ground in Shibe Park somewhere between second base and Puddin' Head Jones. It covers a large piece of ground, Northern League in 1950. That's just so does Kazanski.

Home Show Will Open Doors Today

ing in their own homes. The entire exhibit is not all displays of bathrooms, kitchens, heating equipment and other furnishings.

MERRITT LUMBER company, West High street, has a display which will attract men, women and children alike. Even last night, workmen at the hall stopped for a few minutes to watch the company's exhibit.

The lumber company has a row of seven booths. In each one are miniature figures about a foot high, which move about.

One booth shows a man and a woman and an architect picking out a site for a building. Another shows a group of people in a finance company inquiring on methods of floating a mortgage, and others show kitchen scenes and men pouring over blueprints.

By far, the tiny booth which drew the most attention last night was one of a group of workmen busily constructing a frame house.

One workman was on top of the roof hammering, one was walking along the side of the house carrying a plank, one was laying bricks in a chimney and others were operating dump trucks, lumber trucks and mixing cement.

Overseeing the operations was a well-dressed gentleman talking to an elderly-looking man in coveralls who nodded his head as the other man pointed to places in the miniature house. All the figures moved about busily and realistically.

AT THE SANDERS AND THOMAS DISPLAY, architects for the West End school and new Junior High school gymnasium, were models of the buildings which soon will be erected in the borough.

Formica tables used in kitchens and exhibitions of stone were built right in the ballroom in the past three days. The tables had to be constructed so they would fit into the small quarters and follow the pattern of the booths.

Three walls of Permatone, all different designs, were built on the dance floor by Natural Stone and Supply company, Reading.

Edward Kegerise, superintendent, said, "We put them up the same way we build a house, using the same materials. It cost quite a bit of money and it will be all scrap after the show."

But all the members of Building Industries Exchange are of the opinion that the staging of the first home show in the borough will be well worth the time, money and effort expended.

DOPE RAIDS —

widespread sale of heroin here. "We intend to get every known dope peddler in Philadelphia," he said.

Gibbons said he was going to overhaul the entire narcotics squad. He directed that all its present members be assigned to other duties. He named Sgt. Thomas McDermott acting leader of the squad.

"The fact that Federal agents were able to get evidence warranting the arrest of more than 100 traffickers in narcotics indicates how far the dope business has got out of hand. I do not believe that this situation could have arisen with proper police work by my department's narcotics squad. To me, this is neglect of duty."

GIBBONS SAID he would revamp the squad with a view to closer cooperation with Federal agents, basic changes in tactics, arrest and a "fluid" assignment of men and women to the squad.

The 30 raiders included members of the Federal Narcotics Squad, Alcohol Tax unit, Secret Service and United States Customs Service and men from every branch of the city police force.

Pennsylvania and New Jersey state patrolmen, Army and Navy intelligence agents, Camden and Atlantic City, N. J., policemen and Sheriff Jerry Gormley of Atlantic county, N. J., went along as observers.

The raiders broke down doors, routed suspects out of bed and searched their homes from top to bottom. Several automobiles, all expensive models, were seized. Also taken was a large variety of equipment used by narcotics addicts.

VOWS RENEWED —

their vows each year, sometimes publicly and sometimes to themselves, throughout their lives.

"This practise of renewal of vows for married people would seem particularly in place in these days when marriage is so little held in esteem by many and is even violently attacked by some," the rector said before the service.

After they renewed their vows, the couples recited a pledge to christian marriage, included in the pledge was the statement: "What God has bound together, let no man put asunder."

Women workers are possibly steadier workers than men, though they talk more, she asserted. Do they gripe as much as men on the job? "Not any less," she replied.

The women production workers come from far-flung points, Mrs. Rohrbach is from Pennside, near Reading.

Mrs. Rightmire is from St. Peters, Chester county; Mrs. Konowal, 601 East Vine street, Stowe, and Mrs. Hoffman, Allentown.

SCHOLARSHIPS —

which time they must be mailed to Akron, Ohio, Firestone headquarters.

Any high school Senior, or high school graduate under the age of 25 years, who is the son or daughter of an employee, is eligible. The employee must have completed five years' service by June 1, 1953, and his average pay must not exceed $625 per month.

Scholarship winners may attend any college or university in the United States, providing it is an accredited institution.

Scholarships will be allocated to various sections of the country on the basis of proportionate Firestone employment.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the 15 winners will be made early in June.

Each applicant must take a standard test given by his or her high school and must fill out papers which prove qualifications of parents as firm employees.

All information will be sent to Akron from a Firestone plant. In Akron judges will pick winners.

Handley added, "In four years we will have 60 students in college. This is the first year and we plan to conduct the program annually."

Pottstown's Firestone plant employs approximately 2600 persons. Employment rolls of Firestone, firms in the nation total 25,000 workers.

The name, sex and occupation of all persons over 21 will be taken, and the name, sex, date of birth, nationality and name of school will be filed for all children under 18 years of age.

Co-operation on the part of citizens is considered mandatory. A resident can be penalized an extra year's taxes if his or her name is not entered on the tax rolls.

A $5 fine can be invoked if the census-taker is hindered in any way.

There will be no school for public school children this day of the census.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

MARK HANNA, P.A., is famous for the duration of his telephone calls. Mark does not believe in putting into ten words what can be said more in detail in a thousand. One of his staidest visitors is the distinguished thespian, Sir Cedric Hardwicke. Sir Cedric sat opposite Mark in silence on one occasion for about a solid hour while Hanna held forth for the special benefit of American T&T. Suddenly the P.A. slapped down the receiver and observed, "You have been reading your newspaper upside down." "See here," protested the distinguished actor, "you know perfectly well I don't visit you to read. I come to watch your performance on the telephone."

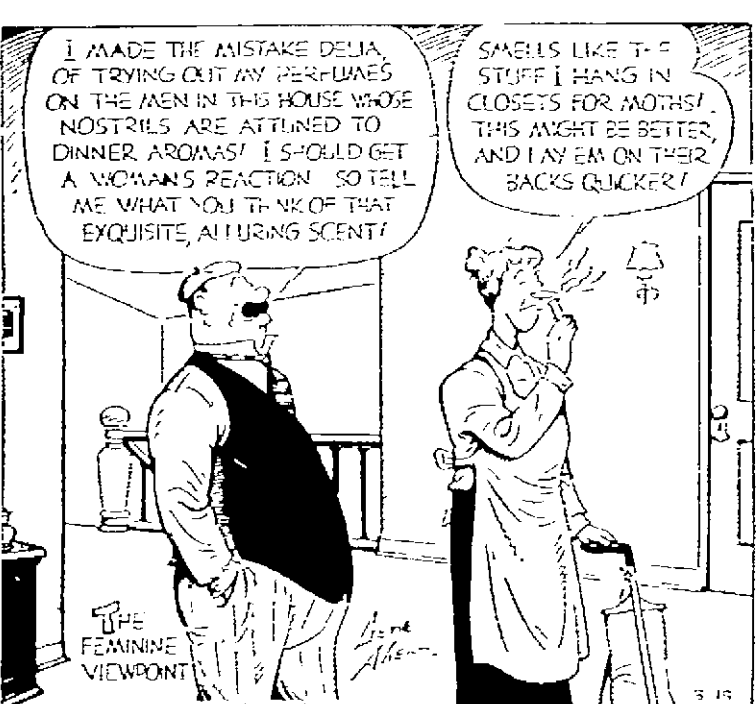

Ed Rosenwald, advertising executive, assures me: "Many a motorist has lost control of his car because of one mistake: teaching his teenage kids how to drive."

Rueful observation of a man born in 1903: it smarts to be fifty. Copyright, 1953, by Bennett Cerf. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, March 18 (U.P.)—Many residents remaining in Brazil's drought-ravaged northeast today gave up hope of relief before October or November. By tradition, March 17 is the final day for rain to fall in this season. Yesterday's rain was negligible.

More farmers now are expected to abandon their properties. The drought is in its third year in some sections of seven northeast states.

Baby Daughter Is Killed As Sacrifice to Goddess

BOMBAY, India, March 18 (U.P.)—Police in the central India city of Jabalpur reported yesterday the arrest of a 34-year-old Hindu for killing his baby daughter as a sacrifice to the goddess Kali.

The goddess, the most ferocious in the Hindu Pantheon, is always depicted with red eyes and four hands, of which one wields a blood-spattered sword and another a bleeding decapitated human head held by the hair.

The father reportedly took his 30-month-old daughter to the Maladevi temple where he anointed and garlanded her before dashing her head on the altar stone in full view of nearby children.
